

ADVANTAGE TACTICAL SIGHT

ATS PATENT NUMBERS: US 6,711 846; US D489, 115; EPC 000756168-0001

NATURAL ALIGNMENT - the aligned front and rear sights of the Advantage Tactical Sight (ATS) form a pyramid. Simply place the very tip of the pyramid where the desired bullet impact is to occur.

SPEED & ACCURACY - there are some sights that are fast and others that are accurate. The ATS does both. Sight acquisition is very fast and long-range accuracy is extremely precise. With ATS, there is no guesswork. One is either maintaining the pyramid shape throughout the shooting sequence or not.

BOTH EYES ON THE MOVE – With the ATS, the ability to shoot with both eyes open and while moving is greatly enhanced. Just look at the target and present the weapon. The pyramid sight picture will be there.

QUICKER LEARNING CURVE - the ATS is quick to learn for new and less experienced shooters. Less time is required to teach sight acquisition with the ATS, compared to all horizontally aligned sighting systems. Just tell the new shooter to build a pyramid and place the point of the pyramid on where you want the round to go. This is much faster than teaching one to use a post-and-notch or three-dot sight.

COVERS LESS OF THE TARGET - the ATS with its pyramid configuration, more than any other sight, allows greater target area visibility.

THE ANSWER FOR AGEING EYES - a real help for those with compromised vision. The bright and clear ATS sight picture allows those with vision challenges to once again be effective with an iron sight. As America ages, there are many who want and need sights that are highly visible and easy to see.

A PERSONALIZED IRON SIGHT - only the ATS can be personalized to the vision, shooting style, and the particular firearm and load of each shooter. It is only fixed sight that is adjustable for elevation, windage, and color preference.

COLOR ADJUSTABLE FOR PERSONAL PREFERENCE - both the front and rear sights come in five distinctive, highly fluorescent, interchangeable colored inserts - red, yellow, orange, white and green. One can choose any of 25 different color combinations for individualized color preference. Of course all five colors come with each sight set. Our new front sight system actually comes with five differently colored front sights. One can change the front sight to the preferred front sight color.

FULLY ADJUSTABLE SIXED SIGHT - The ATS, unlike any other fixed sight, can be adjusted for both elevation and windage. Elevation adjustment is accomplished by WrenTech's unique patent pending shim system.

LOW AMBIENT LIGHT - the ATS is the most visible of any iron sight in low ambient light where the overwhelming majority of tactical situations occur. The large fluorescent inserts of the ATS are visible and easily acquired in diminished ambient light where fiber optics cease to glow and where tritium "night sights" still need more darkened environments.
